July Commentary

Your Fund returned +4.3% during the month compared to +4.9% for the MSCI World Index (NR) GBP.

Further strong gains in global equity markets in July continue the sharp rally seen since the "Liberation day" tariff shock. The MSCI World Index has now gained by +21.3% since the low seen on April 8th. It seems the TACO trade¹ is alive and well.

Some of the rebound can be justified by improving conditions – or rather conditions that have proved to be less bad than feared – but the economic growth outlook for the US economy and elsewhere remains pedestrian at best and inflation elevated. Further although the US administration has backed off from its originally proposed tariffs, recent deals have been struck at levels that are far in excess of the prevailing tariff regime ex ante. As such although the effects of this – ultimately a tax on US consumption – have yet to be apparent they are unlikely to be growth-enhancing. The level of sentiment required to support valuations that are stretched relative to history in the face of this uncertainty suggests a degree of investor euphoria reminiscent of 2021 during the SPAC² boom.

In our view, the disconnect between markets and fundamentals is widening. Should investors reach a rather more sober judgement regarding the outlook, something we see as highly likely, high-quality businesses with robust balance sheets and pricing power of the sort that make up our portfolio, will prove their worth.

The Fund paid a distribution of 1.0465p at the end of the month. This represents a growth in income relative to the same period last year of 6.8%. While the policy and economic backdrop may remain uncertain the underlying growth in free cash flow from the portfolio, which underpins the income growth for the Fund, remains robust.
