

Trojan Fund (Ireland)

Fund Information Sheet

The investment objective of the Trojan Fund (Ireland) is to seek to achieve growth in capital (net of fees), ahead of inflation (UK Retail Prices Index), over the longer term (5 to 7 years). The Fund has flexibility to invest globally in government and public securities (such as sovereign debt and treasury bills), corporate bonds, equities and equity-related securities, private equity, precious metals, cash, cash equivalents and deposits.

Investment Style and Approach

The objective of the Trojan Fund (Ireland) is to protect and grow our investors' capital in real terms over the long term. This is achieved through cautious, dynamic asset allocation based on our view of equity valuations and the careful selection of high-quality securities. Emphasising capital preservation and absolute returns, the Fund is conservatively managed, with concentrated holdings and low turnover. The Fund is long-only and has the flexibility to invest across a broad range of asset classes.

The core of the portfolio is liquid developed market equities, where the team invest in quality businesses for the long-term when valuations are attractive. Other asset classes are selected on the basis of:

- Risk diversification (e.g., gold-related investments and government bonds);
- Safety and optionality (e.g., short-dated UK Gilts, Japanese government bonds, and cash);
- Inflation protection (e.g., index-linked government bonds and gold-related investments);
- Currency hedging (e.g., forward FX contracts to reduce/ eliminate unwanted currency exposures in the portfolio).

Whilst asset allocation will vary, in general, the investment universe will comprise high quality, developed market equities, developed market government bonds, gold-related investments, cash and money market instruments (such as treasury bills). We judge the safety and attractiveness of asset classes not just relative to each other, but also relative to their own histories. When allocating the Fund's assets we incorporate valuation measures, our own inflation expectations, and our understanding of monetary and fiscal conditions into our decision-making process from both a top-down perspective (looking at an economy as a whole) and a stock-specific perspective. The allocation to these diversifying asset classes increases at times of elevated equity valuations or uncertainty. In each of these asset classes, we seek the highest quality securities. We avoid:

- Investments we can't understand
- Investments where we consider liquidity to be a risk (e.g. corporate credit)
- Unnecessary complexity
- Using derivatives to "go short" or hedge exposures (e.g. protective strategies), noting that we do hedge some currency exposures

Currency exposure is actively managed within the Fund from a risk management perspective. Currency views are long-term and strategic, not tactical, and Troy's approach has always been to look at the overall currency exposure and to manage currency risk accordingly. Any sizeable non-sterling currency exposure is an active decision, and the GBP/USD currency exposure is often hedged or partially hedged to reduce non-sterling currency risk.

Performance Profile

The Fund tends to avoid cyclical and highly capital-intensive companies, in favour of those exhibiting more defensive characteristics. As a result of this, the Fund usually has a low beta or sensitivity to market moves. Our investment style is such that while our performance may lag in strongly rising markets (often led by cyclical companies), we tend to perform well in falling markets. We believe that a portfolio that suffers fewer and less destructive drawdowns will be in a better position to compound returns over the long run.

Use of Benchmarks

The UK Retail Prices Index (RPI) has been selected as the Fund's target return benchmark as the Fund aims to achieve a return (the money made or lost on an investment) that is above the rate of inflation. The UK Retail Prices Index is used to measure the rate of inflation. The Fund's performance may also be compared against the UK Official Bank Rate. The UK Official Bank Rate is used as a comparator which may assist investors in evaluating the Fund's performance when compared with returns available from cash.

Target Market and Distribution Strategy

The Trojan Fund (Ireland) may be suitable for all eligible investors (be they retail clients, professional clients or eligible counterparties) who are seeking growth in capital (net of fees), ahead of inflation (UK Retail Prices Index) over the longer term, by investing in UK and overseas assets, with varying exposure to asset classes depending on the Investment Manager's appraisal of valuations and economic indicators.

Financial experience is not considered a necessity, however, investors must understand that this is a product where capital is at risk and have the capacity to bear losses (possibly total) on their original investment, accepting risk to their capital. The Fund may be suitable as a component of a portfolio and for investors who are looking to set aside their capital for the long term (at least five years), though shares may be redeemed on a daily basis.

The risk and reward profile for each class of shares of the Fund is set out in the Key Investor Information Documents (KIID) for the Fund. Any investor should be willing to accept price fluctuations.

The Trojan Fund (Ireland) is unlikely to be compatible with the requirements of an investor:

- with an income objective or who is looking for guaranteed income or return
- seeking full capital protection
- who does not have sufficient resources to bear any loss resulting from the investment
- who is not able to evaluate the risks and merits of the Fund
- looking to invest for a period of less than 5 years

It is expected that a distributor may consider the following to be appropriate channels for distribution of the Fund: execution only, with investment advice and discretionary portfolio management.

Key Risks

- Past performance is not a guide to future returns. Capital invested is at risk and the value of investments and any income from them may go down as well as up. There is no guarantee that the investment objective of the Fund will be achieved.
