

Trojan Ethical Fund (Ireland)

The investment objective of the Trojan Ethical Fund (Ireland) is to provide capital growth (net of fees), ahead of inflation (UK Retail Price Index), over the longer term (5 to 7 years). Its investment policy is to invest across a broad range of asset classes. Whilst asset allocation will vary, in general, the investment universe will comprise high-quality, developed market equities, developed market government bonds, gold related investments, cash and money market instruments (such as treasury bills). The portfolio will be constructed with input from both top-down analysis (looking at an economy as a whole) and bottom-up analysis (study of individual securities). The Fund will invest in accordance with the parameters of its Ethical Exclusion Criteria.

April Commentary

Your Fund (X Acc GBP) returned +0.7% during the month.

The modest returns of the Fund and the FTSE All-Share belie the volatility that shook markets during April. Intra month, the FTSE All-Share saw a drawdown of -10% at worst in April, compared to -1.9% for the Fund (Source: Bloomberg).

The trigger for markets to fall was the unprecedented tariffs announced on so-called 'Liberation Day' on 2nd April. The hardline stance on trade shocked markets that appeared to have largely assumed Trump was bluffing when he said "Tariff is the most beautiful word in the dictionary". Markets appear not to agree and the dollar, Treasury bonds and US equities all swiftly fell. The days that followed included a series of back-and-forth announcements on exemptions, partial suspension and threats to replace the Federal Reserve Chair that only served to exacerbate uncertainty.

Looking through the noise, there are likely to be longer-term impacts. The most immediate is that the tariff burden has risen to a level that is likely to trigger a recession if sustained. Whilst we seek to avoid precise economic forecasts, we are cognisant of the growing risks to the economy. Longer-term, the price reactions of both currencies and bonds are potentially indicative of lasting change. As equities fell, so did the dollar and long-dated US Treasuries, with the 10-year yield reaching 4.5%. These moves suggest that aggressive trade actions against allies have damaged the safe-haven status of US assets. Our view is that this has the potential to sustain as the US's credibility is undermined.

Amongst the falls in equities, there are select opportunities in some high-quality businesses. We added c.4% to equities during the month in the knowledge that there may well be further downside in markets, but that we should be incrementally more positive as equity valuations fall. The rapidly changing US environment also requires us to consider whether the US dollar and Treasuries will continue to offer the protection needed for our investors. As discussed in the latest Investment Report, we have reduced our net dollar exposure from ~23% to 10% and our inflation-linked bond duration to 2.4 years. We have also added a 9% Japanese Yen holding, which is a currency that we expect to act as a safe haven should the macro environment deteriorate further.
