June Commentary

Your Fund returned +2.1% during the month compared to +0.7% for the FTSE All-Share Index TR.

The oil price fell sharply in June, reversing much of the spike seen earlier in the year, as easing tensions in the Middle East reduced fears over supply disruption. The Fund holds no energy stocks, and this proved a tailwind on a relative basis in June, having been a headwind when the oil price spiked in March.

The standout contributor in the month was distributor Bunzl, whose shares are up 29.5% year to date as the business recovers from last year's missteps. June's trading update showed encouraging progress, helped by self-help measures in the US business, recent acquisitions and a more inflationary backdrop, which tends to favour distributors like Bunzl.

During the month, activist investor Elliott revealed a stake in the company, calling for a partial breakup of the business and a significant share buyback. On balance, we see the benefits of the enlarged group, not least in terms of purchasing power. Our understanding is that the market for acquisitions remains fragmented, and so long as this holds, we believe acquisitions at good valuations are the best use of capital. This approach has underpinned Bunzl's success over many decades.

With Bunzl's share price now reflecting what we believe is a fairer valuation, we have reduced the Fund's holding. We are conscious that a lower oil price could lead to a less inflationary environment in the second half of the year, which would be a less favourable backdrop for the business. We retain a decent holding.

Elsewhere, we trimmed IHG, a fantastic investment for the Fund since it was purchased in the depths of the pandemic. At a valuation of over 25x earnings, there is now less room for error. We also reduced Howden Joinery and Croda, both of which have seen their valuations rise in recent weeks.
