October Commentary

Your Fund (O Acc GBP) returned +0.7% during the month.

Agilent Technologies was first bought across the multi-asset mandates in 2019. The company is a global leader in manufacturing and selling life science tools that identify, quantify and analyse physical and biological properties of substances. We remain a top-20 shareholder today and, over the summer, engaged with the management team on their carbon commitments. This is part of an ongoing endeavour to transition our portfolio companies to net zero, and follows our signing up to the Net Zero Asset Managers' Initiative in July.

Agilent originally committed to a 10% emission reduction target by 2024 but remained in a minority of our investee companies in not making a more ambitious long-term commitment. We engaged with the company's Head of Sustainability and the Head of Investor Relations in July, stating our desire to see emission reduction targets in line with the goals set out in the Paris Agreement. We also stipulated our wish to see a strategy that outlined the actions to be taken to achieve this, as well as the use of climate-scenario analysis to inform the strategy. In addition, we wanted to see the company implement the recommendations of the Task Force for Climate-related Financial Disclosures ('TCFD').

Following a positive conversation, the company subsequently announced, at the end of October, its commitment to achieving net-zero Green House Gases (GHG) emissions no later than 2050. Agilent committed to an interim GHG reduction targets with a target reduction of 50% (scope 1&2) by 2030 and scope 3 emissions¹ by at least 30% (with a stretch goal of 40%) from the base year of 2019. In addition to setting the interim targets for achieving net-zero GHG emissions, Agilent committed to the Science Based Targets Initiatives Business Ambition for 1.5 degrees Celsius, and is adopting the TCFD recommendations.

We first met with the company in 2018 and have had a constructive dialogue since becoming shareholders. This engagement, following the implementation of our climate mitigation strategy, is testament to the positive impact that we, as long-term shareholders, can have on both future returns and companies' wider impact on the environment. We will continue to monitor closely their implementation of the strategy.
