September Commentary

Your Fund returned -1.0% during the month compared to +3.0% for the FTSE All-Share Index (TR).

Bond yields have been grinding lower for much of this year, which has benefitted the Fund. The shift towards an ever greater amount of negative yielding fixed income securities ($14.7tn at last count, having peaked at $17tn at the end of August) has made other assets, including gold bullion, provide a yield pick-up. This is indicative of the perverse financial environment we live in. The snap back in bond yields during September led to a rotation into parts of the stock market which the Fund is not exposed to – cyclical value stocks. Such rotation is bound to occur from time to time and in this instance proved short-lived. We will not manage the portfolio for these inevitable short term moves, preferring to focus on the long-term strengths of the businesses we hold.

In September we met with the Chief Financial Officer of Procter & Gamble. Despite evidence that the world economy is slowing, P&G is firing on all cylinders and momentum in the business looks set to continue. Big brands are here to stay despite many protestations to the contrary. Online shelf space, while infinite in theory, is limited in practice to the top search results. E-tailers like Amazon will not relegate their largest revenue generators to the second page. Meanwhile even unicorn consumer goods start-ups are struggling to make profits. P&G is more competitive today than it has been for many years which is borne out in current trading. Its strong brands, like Pampers, are now backed by a leaner business, with greater accountability setting the group up for continued success.
