October Commentary

Your Fund returned +6.4% during the month compared to +1.1% for the FTSE All-Share Index TR.

The UK was the best-performing major market in October and proved a good diversifier from the more technology-heavy US market. Large US technology companies saw their share prices fall as investors questioned the returns on heavy spending on Artificial Intelligence (AI). The falls were concentrated in chipmakers and the biggest AI spenders.

The Fund's return was driven by its digital and data holdings, which recovered much of their September losses. Experian was the top performer, rising +21.2% and recovering almost all of last month's fall. RELX (+19.9%), Sage (+19.8%) and LSEG (+16.4%) also rose strongly. Lower bond yields were a tailwind, having been a headwind the month before. Not owning the banks added to relative performance, with HSBC falling 14.7%.

Following some sharp share price rises, we reduced weightings in several holdings, including Roche, RELX, LSEG, Sage, Experian, Visa and CME. We used the proceeds to start a new holding in Cranswick and to return to AstraZeneca. We also added to pest control company Rentokil mid-month, following encouraging results, with the shares trading on a low valuation.

Cranswick is a leading UK food producer, supplying fresh pork, poultry and cooked meats to the major supermarkets. Key to its success has been management's ability to consistently invest capital at high rates of return. We see significant opportunities for further reinvestment, particularly into poultry, where its market share is much lower than in pork. Compounding earnings growth has enabled the company to increase its dividend for 36 consecutive years.

Pharmaceutical company AstraZeneca was last held in the Fund in 2025. It has particular strength in cancer treatments. Its pipeline of new medicines underpins an ambition to reach $80bn of revenue by 2030 and beyond. Weakness in the shares this year gave us the opportunity to return at a lower valuation. AstraZeneca has since reported good results, demonstrating healthy growth and operating leverage.

We consider Cranswick and AstraZeneca to be high-quality businesses and, at c.15x forward Price/Earnings at the time of purchase, were attractively valued given the high single-digit to low double-digit earnings growth we expect.
